PestWorld early bird registration ends September 14, 2022

If you are one of the many international delegates planning to attend PestWorld 2022 in Boston from 11-14 October don't delay as the special discounted early bird registration rate ends on September 14, 2022.

Organised by the National Pest Management Association (NPMA), the full programme, details of exhibitors and all the registration information is available at www.pestworld2022.org.

Special PestWorld room rates at the headquarters hotel, the Sheraton Boston hotel, also end on September 14, 2022.

Packed programme

It is certainly going to be a very busy four days with a whole host of technical sessions to choose from plus the fully booked 200 booth exhibition to attend.

The event kicks off with a bang at the opening ceremony on Tuesday afternoon with an appearance of the Boston Police Gaelic Column of Pipes and Drums followed by the opening of the exhibition.

At the opening general session on Wednesday 12 October, John O'Hurley, award-winning actor and New York Times bestselling author will address delegates. John has entertained and inspired thousands with his hilarious and deeply personal memoirs. On Thursday, Alex Sheen, one of the world's foremost experts on accountability and commitment will speak at the industry awards and general session.

For international delegates, Orkin is once again sponsoring the international reception on Wednesday night. This is a great place to catch up with all those from overseas.

And on Friday there is to be a meeting of the Global Pest Management Coalition (GPMC). Details of this will be available on the PestWorld 2022 website.

Specific details for international visitors can be found on the PestWorld website, along with information should a visa be required.

Full details regarding registration and hotels offering PestWorld discounts are on the PestWorld 2022 website at www.pestworld2022.org
